

FARM MANAGEMENT ASSISTANT

Job Description:

This position requires full scale involvement in the operation of a diversified 2500 acre grass seed, cereal, specialty seed, and mint oil production farm located in the southern Willamette Valley area.

We are looking for an individual that is interested in learning many facets of production agriculture, and working toward a greater management role.

Duties and responsibilities will include, but are not limited to the following:

- Ability to operate all equipment and understand proper care and maintenance protocols. Use of GPS guidance systems, and mapping on spray, fertilizer, and harvest equipment.
- Set-up, scheduling, operation, and monitoring of center pivot, linear, large hose traveling gun equipment.
- Supervision of small irrigation crew.
- Supervision, monitoring, and quality control of seed cleaning plant.
- Monitoring of crop health, disease, weed, insect pressure. As well as water needs and nutrition.
- Miscellaneous other duties to ensure connectivity with all phases of crop production cycles.

This job is available immediately, on a full time basis, (or part time through this winter season). But the position needs to be a full-time commitment by Spring 2010. Wage is to be determined, based on ability to learn, problem solving skills, and a positive, willing attitude. Benefits include insurance, vacation pay, and SEP retirement deposits when distributed.

In short, this position touches every aspect of the farm operation and provides excellent opportunities for growth.
