

JoLyn Scott

---

From: casadvisors-bounces@lists.oregonstate.edu on behalf of Jeter, Brett [Brett.Jeter@oregonstate.edu]
Sent: Wednesday, October 14, 2009 8:24 AM
To: casadvisors@lists.oregonstate.edu
Subject: Spring 2010 Internships with National Pork Producers Council!
Attachments: ATT00272.txt

Advisors,

Possible internship possibility for students.

--Brett

---

From: Gwendolyn Bingham [mailto:binghamg@nppc.org]
Sent: Tuesday, October 13, 2009 8:47 AM
To: undisclosed-recipients
Subject: Spring 2010 Internships with National Pork Producers Council!

Good afternoon!

The National Pork Producers Council (NPPC) is now recruiting for Spring 2010 interns!

NPPC is seeking four interns - one for each of the following departments:

- Communications
- Environmental Law and Policy
- International Trade
- Science and Technology

Please update this change on your university career website and on specific department homepages and send it directly to students who might be interested in this unique opportunity. If you are not the correct contact for this information, please pass this email along to the appropriate faculty.

A brief overview of NPPC and the internship program is included below. Please refer students to <http://nppc.org/Programs/Internship.htm> for more details.

Deadline

For Spring 2010 internships, the applications must be postmarked by November 13, 2009.

For more information and application requirements, visit:

<http://nppc.org/Programs/Internship.htm>

Working for the National Pork Producers Council

The National Pork Producers Council (NPPC) is the global voice for the U.S. pork industry working daily to protect the livelihoods of pork producers by fighting for reasonable legislation and regulation and developing revenue and market opportunities. Our mission is to add significant value to pork producers and industry investors by achieving favorable laws and regulations that help them operate successful businesses and compete effectively and profitably in the global marketplace.

NPPC's internship program is a hands-on experience for students seeking to learn more about the pork industry, government relations, international trade and public policy. Interns have the opportunity to work under the direction of the highly respected professionals at NPPC. Senior staff members value the opportunity to mentor and teach today's student who will be tomorrow's leaders.

Located one block from the Capitol building, the NPPC Washington Public Policy Center is in the heart of the political action on Capitol Hill. NPPC interns have the ability for professional networking with congressional staff, allied industry trade associations and federal agencies, including the U.S. Department of Agriculture and the Environmental Protection Agency. If you have an interest in promoting American agriculture and want to gain real-world experience in the political arena, this is the opportunity for you!

In addition to an unparalleled experience, our distinguished internship program offers a competitive stipend of $500 a week (after taxes) and reimbursable, work-related travel.

Interested candidates should send a letter of interest, resume, transcripts (if available), along with three references to intern@nppc.org. They may also send the above items to:

National Pork Producers Council
ATTN: Intern Program Director
122 C Street NW
Suite 875
Washington, DC 20001

For Spring 2010 internships, the applications must be postmarked by November 13, 2009.

Regards,

Gwendolyn Bingham
Office Administrator/Intern Program Director
National Pork Producers Council
122 C Street, NW, Suite 875
Washington, DC 20001
Office: 202-347-3600
Fax: 202-347-5265

binghamg@nppc.org

This message contains confidential information belonging to The National Pork Producers Council and is intended only for the individual named. If you are not the named addressee you should not disseminate, distribute or copy this e-mail. Please notify the sender immediately by email if you have received this e-mail by mistake and delete this e-mail from your system. E-mail transmission cannot be guaranteed to be secure or error-free as information could be intercepted, corrupted, lost, destroyed, arrive late or incomplete, or contain viruses and The National Pork Producers Council does not accept liability for any errors or omissions in the contents of this message which arise as a result of e-mail transmission. If verification is required please request a hard-copy from: The National Pork Producers Council, 122 C Street, N.W. Suite 875, Washington, D.C. 20001. Any views or opinions presented in this email are solely those of the author and do not necessarily represent those of The National Pork Producers Council.