

Student Group Operations and Procedures for Fall 2020

Student groups include all recognized EOU student clubs, organizations, and club sports.

The Center for Student Involvement (CSI) is reaching out to keep you mindful and informed about how you can support your club/organization and officers as we reopen this fall. As fall term begins, we want to reiterate that our institution is committed to supporting the health and well-being of our entire EOU community.

We have developed a list of questions and answers that will help guide you as you plan this fall. Additionally, it is important to remember the University Community Expectations regarding face coverings, physical distancing, washing hands frequently, and conducting a daily wellness self-check.

We understand that this may create some challenges for our student leaders and advisors. We hope that we can provide some resources for you as you continue to plan and be successful this upcoming term.

If you have any questions, please feel free to contact us.

- Mail received in Hoke 204 will be held and delivered to the respective club/organization office when office is vacant based upon the office hour schedule.

Events & Meetings

Can student groups host meetings?

- Groups may conduct meetings with 6 feet of physical distancing in mind and the option of virtual participation for those who are not comfortable attending a face to face meeting. If the meeting is required for members to attend, then there should be a virtual option.

- Groups that host in person meetings must maintain a list of participants for that date of activity and needs to be kept on file. It is important that the list has participants acknowledge that they have completed the daily self-check for that date prior to attending the meeting. The participation list does not have to be submitted to anyone but should be available in the event contact tracing needs to occur.
- All in-person attendees must wear face coverings.
- Room capacity reductions will restrict the number of members who can be in a space for face to face meetings. Groups should consult and reserve a space through the Event and Conference Service office as spaces on campus have maximum occupancy limits.
- Groups should make sure members and guests know that if they are sick they should not attend face to face functions.
- Groups should provide the following information to all members regarding appropriate action steps if a member reports being ill/sick and/or may have been exposed to COVID-19: If you are ill with any symptoms, please stay home and call the Student Health Center at 541-962-3524 or your primary care provider to help determine the most appropriate care. If you or someone you know has severe symptoms such as difficulty breathing, persistent pain or pressure in the chest, confusion or bluish discoloration to the lips or face, seek emergency care and call 911.

- Any event must go through the Event Registration planning process and include a COVID-19 compliance plan for face coverings and social/physical distancing.

It is important that the list has participants acknowledge that they have completed the daily self-check for that date prior to attending the event. The participation list does not have to be submitted to anyone but should be available in the event contact tracing needs to occur.
- Larger events should be held outside and in a space that encourages and permits physical distancing of 6 feet between individuals.
- When outside space is not compatible with the event, indoor space limitations regarding maximum capacity and the ability to physically distance must be followed.
- Student groups will need to reach out to Event and Conference Services to discuss space logistics at least 14 days (2 weeks) prior to their event to determine if the event can happen based upon the maximum number of anticipated attendees, room diagrams, and other requirements/needs.
- Due to physical distancing requirements and space/room capacity, all dances are suspended for fall 2020.
- Events such as board or video game activities may be held if there is no physical exchange of controllers, game pieces, cards, dice, or other objects. Participants must have the ability to physically distance from other participants and must follow room capacity requirements.
