Introduction

House Bill 2864 (2017) required each Oregon public university to develop a process for recommending and overseeing cultural competency standards for the university and its employees. One feature of that process is the delivery to the university’s governing board of trustees of a biennial report. The process is required to be in place by December 31, 2020. This report is being provided to the Board of Trustees in fulfillment of the biennial report requirement.

A. The Requirements of HB 2864 Are Met and Exceeded by the 2020 Diversity, Equity, Inclusion and Access Strategic Plan.

House Bill 2864 defined “Cultural Competency” as:

an understanding of how institutions and individuals can respond respectfully and effectively to people from all cultures, economic statuses, language backgrounds, races, ethnic backgrounds, disabilities, religions, genders, gender identifications, sexual orientations, veteran statuses and other characteristics in a manner that recognizes, affirms and values the worth, and preserves the dignity, of individuals, families and communities.

HB 2864 required each public institution of higher education to develop a process that would recommend cultural competency standards for the institution and oversee the implementation of those standards. The process adopted by each institution is required to:

(a) Include a broad range of institutional perspectives;
(b) Give equal weight to the perspectives of administrators, faculty members, staff and students;
(c) Require that the institution provide continuing training and development opportunities that foster the ability of the institution’s faculty, staff and administration to meet cultural competency standards;
(d) Propose institution-wide goals that seek to improve the cultural inclusion climate for students, faculty, staff and administration from diverse backgrounds;
(e) Require preparation of a biennial report that is presented to the appropriate board regarding the institution’s progress toward achieving the goals set forth in this subsection;
(f) Recommend mechanisms for assessing how well the institution meets cultural competency standards; and
(g) Ensure that the institution clearly communicates to new faculty, staff and administrators the institution’s commitment to including meeting cultural competency standards in professional development.

1 HB 2864 (2017) is attached as Appendix A.
Each institution was required to establish a committee or process that fulfilled requirements (a) and (b) by the end of 2019. In October 2019, President Insko met with the Chair of the university’s shared governance Diversity Committee, (Davon Dunajski), Provost Sarah Witte, and Vice President for Student Affairs Lacy Karpilo to discuss how to accomplish that. The results were summarized in an October 24, 2019, memo from President Insko to Chair Dunajski. That memo recommended that the Diversity Committee exercise its authority to establish an advisory committee to the Diversity Committee. The membership of the Advisory Committee would be selected to meet the requirements of a committee that “included a broad range of institutional perspectives” and gave equal weight to the perspectives of administrators, faculty members, staff and students.” The Diversity Committee accepted the president’s recommendations and further determined that the shared governance body that the committee reports to, the University Council, already gives “equal weight to the perspectives of administrators, faculty members, staff and students.”

In its further work during calendar year 2020, the Diversity Committee determined that the most effective way to address requirements (c) through (g) of HB 2864 was to incorporate the new standards and procedures into its existing Diversity Strategic Plan, which had been drafted by the committee in 2017. The amended plan was developed by the Advisory Committee to the Diversity Committee, and is named the Diversity, Equity, Inclusion and Access Strategic Plan 2020.

The Diversity, Equity, Inclusion and Access Strategic Plan 2020 fulfills the requirements of HB 2864. The plan identifies numerous institution-wide goals (requirement (d), above) and mechanisms for measuring progress (requirement (f)). These include the provision (c) and communication (g) of professional development opportunities. Future biennial reports to the Board of Trustees (e) will be built upon these quantifiable criteria.

In addition to fulfilling HB 2864 requirements, the plan describes how the university will fulfill the university’s mission, values, and strategic plan goals relating to diversity, equity, inclusion and access. In particular, it describes how the university will fulfill diversity-related goals in the university’s current strategic plan, The Ascent 2029. Of these, the most directly relevant goal is Goal 4: “Thriving University Community – A Great Place to Work and Learn”, Objective 2: “Support intercultural competency, inclusiveness, and diversity.”

The Diversity Committee reviewed the Diversity, Equity, Inclusion and Access Strategic Plan with the University Council on October 13, 2020. The President’s Cabinet reviewed it on October 22, 2020. The plan was presented to the Academic and Student Affairs Committee of the Board of Trustees on October 28, 2020. At each level of review, criticism was leveled at one particular portion of the plan, the plan’s definition of “White Supremacy Culture.” In his final review prior to adopting the plan, President Insko, concluded that this definition was inconsistent with the values and goals of the rest of the plan and, indeed, of the university. President Insko formally adopted the plan for university use (minus the “White Supremacy Culture” definition) on December 30, 2020.

2 Attached as Appendix B.
3 During 2020 the Diversity Committee voted to refer to itself as the Diversity, Equity, Inclusion and Access (DEIA) Committee. The name change, however, will not officially take effect until it is authorized by an amendment to the university shared governance constitution. To avoid confusion, the constitutional name of the committee is used throughout this report.
4 Adopted by the Board of Trustees of Eastern Oregon University, May 24, 2017.
5 Attached as Appendix C.
This first biennial report cannot track the university’s success in meeting the objective criteria of the DEIA Strategic Plan, as the plan has only now been adopted. Rather, this first biennial report will describe the Diversity, Equity, Inclusion, and Access (DEIA) work that the university has engaged in for decades – the baseline against future work will be measured. Much of this work is an ordinary feature of university administration, which would be found in some form at most institutions of higher education. For all that, it pervades the work of the university, requiring vast resources and the focused dedication of professionals in every division of the university. Eastern Oregon University’s diversity, equity, inclusion, and access efforts over the past few decades, however, have gone beyond mere compliance efforts. Rather, the university has steadfastly aspired to a higher standard of DEIA goals and performance. Eastern Oregon University has shown steady progress in achieving those goals.

B. Eastern Oregon University has Been Committed to Broad Diversity, Equity, Inclusion and Access Goals for the Past Several Decades

Diversity, equity, inclusion, and access efforts at Eastern Oregon University are incorporated into every aspect of the operations of the university. This has been true for several decades. This work is driven in part by external mandates and constraints such as the Civil Rights Act of 1964, the Higher Education Act Amendments of 1972 (including Title IX), the line of U.S. Supreme Court decisions regarding higher education admissions practices (starting with the Bakke case of 1977), the Americans with Disabilities Act (1990), and a great many other statutes, regulatory schemes, and judicial decisions at both the federal and state levels of government. Beyond these minimum standards, the university’s DEIA work has been driven by the university’s own aspirational goals as reflected in its mission, values, strategic plan and other benchmarks of university governance and administration. EOU has made steady progress in advancing institutional accountability and achievement in regards to DEIA goals.

1. Eastern Oregon University’s Institutional Orientation Embraces DEIA Aspirations

Founding Principles. EOU was founded in 1929 as a normal school, with the mission of training teachers to expand the level and quality of education throughout the eastern Oregon region. EOU continues today to see serving rural Oregon as a core part of our mission. Diversity, equity, inclusion, and access goals are an essential part of that mission.

Access Institution. Year after year, EOU consistently charges the lowest tuition and has the highest percentage of Pell Grant eligible students of any Oregon public university. This is an outgrowth of our founding mission to serve rural Oregon, a part of the state that is economically disadvantaged relative to the urban portions of the state, but which is considerably more diverse than many from outside the region understand. The university’s current mission remains focused on providing citizens of the region with access to a high-quality education, delivering affordable programs, and engaging with the rural regions of the state. EOU’s rural geographic location, traditions, and work ethic play an important role in the school’s history as it explores the new dimensions of work and society in a changing local and global environment.

As “Oregon’s Rural University,” EOU plays a unique, critical role by providing regional access and service to eastern Oregon, a statewide presence through distance education, and liberal arts and professional programs available on campus, online, and onsite through partnerships with community colleges across the state. In its rural setting relatively remote from the population centers of the western side of the state, the university serves rural communities inside a geographic footprint roughly the size of the state of Pennsylvania. As a result, EOU serves a varied student population on campus, as well as online and onsite through its 11 regional centers. Longstanding agreements with partner public universities in Oregon ensure that students in the eastern region of the state have access to degrees in nursing, agriculture and agribusiness. As a nationally recognized leader in providing online courses, EOU works with students across Oregon, giving them the flexibility they need to reach their goals. Thirteen different degree programs and 17 minors can be completed entirely online, bringing affordable and accessible education to students living throughout Oregon and beyond. More than 50 percent of current EOU students are taking advantage of our flexible course accessibility online and onsite. Online and onsite courses are mostly taught by EOU campus faculty, with adjunct instructors vetted and evaluated by the academic programs and their deans, ensuring program coherence and quality.

Many of EOU’s students are first generation college students from small schools in remote regions of the state and beyond. A significant number of our students are non-traditional who previously stopped-out of college. An equally significant number of students transfer from community colleges to complete four-year degrees at EOU. For all of these students, the university experience is both a challenge and an opportunity. A very high proportion of EOU students require financial aid—96% of Fall 2016 full-time, first-time degree/certificate-seeking undergraduates—more than at any other public university in Oregon. EOU undergraduate students received over $22 million in financial aid, including fee remissions, scholarships, grants and loans in AY17. EOU’s annual $55 million budget promotes the regional economy. An essential part of the fabric of northeast Oregon, EOU plays a unique role as the educational, cultural, and economic engine in eastern Oregon.

Mission. Since 2004, the Eastern Oregon University’s Mission has emphasized “diversity and interconnection” as a key element of our mission. The Board of Trustees of Eastern Oregon University reaffirmed that mission at its regular meeting in November 2016:

EOU guides student inquiry through integrated, high-quality liberal arts and professional programs that lead to responsible and reflective action in a diverse and interconnected world.

As an educational, cultural and scholarly center, EOU connects the rural regions of Oregon to a wider world. Our beautiful setting and small size enhance the personal attention our students receive, while partnerships with colleges, universities, agencies and communities add to the educational possibilities of our region and state.

Values and Principles. The university’s values and principles, adopted by the Board of Trustees of Eastern Oregon University in January of 2017, incorporate values related to diversity, equity, inclusion, and access. Our “civility” value does so most expressly, but others, such as “altruism,” “integrity,” and “interdependence” also are strongly supportive of our DEIA orientation.

Altruism:
We give selflessly to empower one another and the University community through inclusiveness, appreciation, and stewardship.
Civility:
We believe in the free and open exchange of ideas, embrace diverse backgrounds, and deliberately seek multiple perspectives.

Discovery:
We honor our heritage and invest in our future with innovation, vision, and creativity.

Integrity:
We uphold the foundation of professionalism, honesty, respect, and sincerity in all of our interactions.

Interdependence:
We cultivate vibrant connections and relationships to enhance opportunity and success locally and globally.

Quality:
We passionately pursue intellectual engagement, academic rigor, and the highest standards in all endeavors.

Core Themes. A DEIA orientation is also reflected in the university’s Core Themes: 1) High Quality Programs, 2) Access for All, and 3) Live, Learn, Succeed. This is most clear in our second core theme “Access for All,” but is an important element of the other themes, as well.

“The Ascent 2029” Strategic Planning Framework. The university’s strategic plan, “The Ascent 2029” (encompassing the period of 2017-2029), supports Diversity, Equity, Inclusion, and Access goals in several of its key elements. While many of the stated goals, objectives, and Key Performance Indicators (KPIs) broadly support our DEIA orientation, Goal 4, Objective 2, does so explicitly:

Goal 4: Thriving University Community – A great place to work and learn

Objective 2: Support intercultural competency, inclusiveness, and diversity
  - KPI 1: Resident students reflect a cross-section of Oregon enriched by students from other regions and countries
  - KPI 2: The students, faculty, and staff demonstrate competency in intercultural interactions

2. Eastern Oregon University’s Governance Bodies Embrace and Reflect DEIA Goals and Values.

Board of Trustees. The Ascent 2029 was formally adopted by the university’s governing body, the Board of Trustees of Eastern Oregon University, at the May 2017 regular meeting of the Board of Trustees. Since then, the Board of Trustees has repeatedly discussed DEIA topics related to the university and received training on DEIA issues. Examples include:
  - 2018 - November Regular Board Meeting. Discussion of enhancing EOU’s partnership with the Confederated Tribes of the Umatilla Indian Reservation.
  - 2019 - April Regular Board Meeting. Presentation on EOU TRIO Support Services Program.
  - 2019 - July/August Board Retreat. Tour of various sites in Malheur County, including its innovative Head Start Program; discussion with regional leaders regarding the ethnic diversity of the county, the county’s development needs, and how those intersect with the university’s strategic plan.

- 2019 - September Special Board Meeting. Trustees attend The Defamation Experience, a courtroom drama and post-performance discussion intended to illustrate and provoke discussion of unconscious bias and systemic racism. The Board agenda included follow-up conversation by the board on these topics.

- 2020 – August Board Retreat. Presentation by Dr. Emily Drew of Willamette University regarding systemic racism and the challenges it presents to higher education. In response to this presentation the board formed a board-level Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion Ad Hoc Committee to advise the Board on appropriate measures the Board could take to further university’s DEIA work and goals.

- 2020 – November Regular Board Meeting. The Board voted unanimously to remove the family name “Pierce” from the name of the University Library. The building had been named more than sixty years ago in honor of former Oregon Governor and Congressman Walter Pierce. Pierce, to whom the university may owe its founding, and who was considered a “New Deal” Democrat, had sought and obtained the support of the Ku Klux Klan during his successful 1920 gubernatorial bid and demonstrated staunch lifelong allegiance to nativism, eugenics, and anti-Catholicism.

The first meeting of the Board’s new Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion Ad Hoc Committee took place on November 30, 2020.

Forty percent of the members of the Board of Trustees are from diverse backgrounds.

Shared Governance Diversity Committee. The current shared governance constitution of Eastern Oregon University was adopted in 2006. From the outset, that constitution established a Diversity Committee as one of the standing committees of the University Council. The University Council is the shared governance body that has equal representation of all components of the university community: students, faculty, classified staff, and administrative professionals. The Diversity Committee reports to the University Council and the University Council directly advises the university cabinet and president.

As a component of the university’s shared governance, however, the Diversity Committee predates both the current constitution and the University Council. The prior shared governance constitution, under which the university had a University Assembly, also established a Diversity Committee which served as a committee of the Assembly.

The membership and role of the Shared Governance Diversity Committee is currently described in Article V, section 4 of the Constitution of Eastern Oregon University, as follows.

Section 4. Diversity Committee

A. Organization and Membership. The Diversity Committee shall consist of eleven members, including four teaching faculty members, one from the College of Arts, Humanities, and Social Sciences, one from the College of Science, Technology, Mathematics, and Health Sciences, one from the College of Business, and one from the College of Education; one library faculty, two administrative professionals, two classified staff members, two students; and the Equal Employment Opportunity Officer, who shall serve ex-officio. In addition, a secondary non-voting advisory group selected by the diversity committee will include interested faculty/staff/students who work specifically in the area of difference and diversity and represent/advocate for/work with groups based upon (but not limited to): socioeconomic status, race/ethnicity, culture, religion, age, gender, sexual orientation, veteran status, and disability. The list of advisory members and their positions will be updated each year and will be available on the committee website. Members will be kept informed of pertinent agenda and action items discussed by the committee. They may be called upon for various purposes; in addition, they will be encouraged to attend meetings as appropriate.

B. Reporting. This committee shall report to and recommend policy to the University Council.

C. Duties and Responsibilities. The duties and responsibilities of the Diversity Committee include the following: to advise the University Council and University President on matters related to diversity; to formulate and facilitate diversity policy, to include a university-wide diversity plan and the review of existing policies and practices, to promote public education, collaboration and special events; to review and report progress on the achievement of strategic plan objectives related to diversity; to serve as an advisory resource for the campus and off-campus communities on diversity issues; and to work with faculty on changes in the curriculum related to issues of diversity.

The Diversity Committee has been active throughout its tenure, originating many university DEIA innovations. These include:

- The Difference, Power, and Discrimination course credit requirement for earning a bachelor’s degree. This degree requirement was first proposed by the committee in 2003, and became effective for all bachelor’s degrees awarded by the university starting with academic year 2010.
- Campus climate surveys of students and of employees conducted in 2015.
- Presentation and training of all employees presented as part of the convocation in the fall of 2017.
- The Diversity Strategic Plan (2017)
- The Diversity, Equity, Inclusion and Access Strategic Plan (2020).

Student Government. Article III of the Constitution of the Associated Students of Eastern Oregon University establishes several officers of the student government. One of these is the Director for Diversity and Equity. The Director of Diversity and Equity works with diversity and inclusion initiatives that support and address the needs of marginalized populations/underrepresented groups in order to ensure equitable opportunities are provided for student success; to develop programs of diversity, equity, and inclusion that will give students the opportunities to engage with, experience, and learn about diversity and social justice issues, to celebrate different cultures and backgrounds of members of our campus community; to be a liaison between the various underrepresented groups and ASEOU student government and providing and equity lens within ASEOU Student Government.

Article V of the ASEOU Constitution is the student government’s Statement of Non-Discrimination.

The practices and policies of the ASEOU officers shall not:
A. Exclude, expel, or limit membership because of an individual’s race, color, creed, ethnicity, religion, age, sex, gender, gender expression, gender identity, sexual orientation, national origin, legal status, socioeconomic status, disability, or status as a veteran.

B. Exclude from being hired, elected, appointed, or otherwise discriminate against any individual with respect to her/his compensation, terms, conditions, or privileges of employment, because of such individual’s race, color, creed, ethnicity, religion, age, sex, gender, gender expression, gender identity, sexual orientation, national origin, legal status, socioeconomic status, disability, or status as a veteran.

ASEOU also conducts at least one DEIA training per year.

3. DEIA Work Is Intrinsic to the Major Divisions of the University.

Student Affairs.

All Student Affairs departments work toward creating an inclusive community using the lens of Diversity, Equity, Inclusion, and Access (DEIA). Highlights are provided below:

- Admission
  - Bilingual admissions counselors
  - Materials in Spanish and English
  - Recruitment events held in Spanish (EOU Bienvenidos)
- Career Services
  - Events/workshops focused on underserved student populations
  - Career Fairs and employer workshops/panels that include organizations that serve diverse populations
- Disability Services
  - Provides accommodations to facilitate the education of students with disabilities, in compliance with the Americans with Disabilities Act.
- Residence Life
  - Targeted programming around diversity and inclusion
- Student Relations / Title IX Coordination
  - Administers the student conduct / discipline processes, including the Title IX conduct processes. These conduct processes are a key point in maintaining an inclusive and accessible university community.
  - Engages in education and outreach to students regarding conduct compliance expectations and creating a supportive, safe university community.
  - All publications are in both Spanish and English
  - Website has an option to translate into Spanish
- Student Support Services / TRiO Program
  - Focused on advising and assisting underprivileged students and helping them integrate into the university.
  - Provides focused support for students facing one or more of these obstacles to success:
    - First generation college student (neither parent has a baccalaureate degree),
    - Income falling below federal low income guidelines,
    - Disability,
    - Aging out of the foster care system, and/or
    - Homelessness.
• After three years of successful operation, EOU recently received notice that the grant would not be renewed. Options are being reviewed.

Of all Student Affairs Departments, the Student Diversity and Inclusion Department (SDI) is focused most directly on DEIA work. The programs and services of the Student Diversity and Inclusion Department are tailored to supporting Native American, Latino/Hispanic, African American, Asian Pacific Islander, and international students. The Multicultural Center, Native American and International Student programs goal are to create a holistic diverse approach that focuses on delivering quality programs and services that enables students to assess their educational needs, inform and provide educational resources for students and provide the support that ensures their academic success.

• The EOU Multicultural Center (MC) develops programs and delivers services designed to support and retain students from socially and culturally diverse backgrounds. The MC provides students a place to engage in multicultural activities and offers an inclusive educational environment that nurtures cross-cultural communication and fosters the exchange of diverse perspectives and ideals.

• International Student Services facilitates the internationalization of the campus community.

• Eastern Oregon University’s Native American Program provides services to assure the Native American and Alaskan Native students have access to, and success in, EOU’s programs. The intention is to create a sense of community for Native American, Alaskan Native and Native Hawai’ian students with the University by preserving and promoting Native American cultures and identities, offering numerous cultural events throughout the year (example: 50 years of Pow Wow), and fostering friendships with people of diverse backgrounds.

Objectives of the SDI Department

1. Increase the retention and graduation rate of students from historically marginalized backgrounds, international, and study abroad through support services that guide students through their educational journey towards program completion.

2. Increase participation and impact rates in diversity & inclusion programs and events.

Key Areas of Excellence of the SDI Department

• Diversity education and training opportunities and offerings, such as the annual Celebrate, Educate, & Appreciate Diversity conference (CEAD), Mountie Allies Training, ¡Conéctate!, and diversity workshops and trainings that are utilized by different groups on campus during the school year.

• Multicultural Center support for student clubs and organizations. Support available to these groups includes advising, coaching, mentoring, understanding University processes, and collaborative programming.

• Supporting, Advocating for, and Connecting students to resources to assist them with academic, career, financial, and personal difficulties.

• Faculty, departmental and community outreach and collaborations/partnerships. SDI collaborates with different faculty, on-campus departments and outside organizations to provide additional support, programming and educational opportunities for students and staff around diversity.

Signature Programs of the SDI Department

• Celebrate, Educate & Appreciate Diversity (CEAD) Conference (yearly program). The conference goal is to deepen student’s understanding of privilege and bias and how it impacts their interactions and perceptions of diversity. Students will have a better understanding of other groups’ backgrounds and cultures. The conference educates students about inclusive language and provide them with skills to create and promote a safe and inclusive campus.

- ¡Conéctate! (yearly program). ¡Conéctate! offers opportunities to build meaningful relationships with on-the-ground leaders, volunteers, students, educators, and allies in Eastern Oregon’s Latino communities. It offers an opportunity to discuss challenges and triumphs while sharing the story of the participant’s organization with peers, philanthropic foundations and regional partners. The solutions-oriented conversations focus on education, health & wellness, leadership and community engagement. SDI works in collaboration with community partners including: Oregon Community Foundation, the Ford Family Foundation, Energy Trust of Oregon, Euvalcree, Blue Mountain Community College and Treasure Valley Community College.
- Diversity Excellence Mentoring Program. The Diversity Excellence Mentoring Program is an opportunity for first-year incoming students to enhance their collegiate experience by getting connected to resources that will ensure a successful transition to college life. The program provides new students with an opportunity to develop a unique relationship with fellow upperclassmen – a relationship that will serve to enrich their first year at EOU.
- Mountie Allies Training. The Mountie Allies program provides a network of allies composed of students, faculty and staff who are committed and trained to provide safe, non-judgmental, and supportive contacts for all EOU community members who identify as gay, lesbian, bi-sexual or transgender.
- Student Council for Multicultural Affairs (3 meetings per term during academic year). The SCMA is a student fee-funded unit composed of a group of EOU student leaders who serve as advocates of diversity and a resource for multicultural students and groups in an effort to provide multicultural awareness, appreciation for diverse cultures, and support for a just and inclusive campus.

Athletics.

Guiding Principles. The Athletics Department has adopted eight guiding principles that govern the conduct of its employees and students. The department’s fourth guiding principle speaks directly to DEIA values. The other principles support these values.

1. Reflect high standards of academic excellence
2. Pursuit of athletic greatness
3. Support the physical, emotional, social, and mental development of student-athletes through a robust system of care and support
4. Embrace the responsibility of equitable treatment and promotion of diversity, acceptance, and inclusion
5. Encourage innovation and cultivate a mindset for growth
6. Promote community engagement and character development through respect, responsibility, integrity, sportsmanship, and servant leadership
7. Strictly adhere to the highest level of fiscal control and full compliance with all governing associations with transparency and integrity
8. Engage our alumni through collaborative efforts that reflect a “Lifelong Mountie Approach”

Title IX Compliance.

- Gender Parity. The initial focus of Title IX was on gender parity in athletic offerings. The department manages its programs in strict compliance with this standard.
- Sexual Harassment and Abuse. The department houses a Deputy Title IX Coordinator who is readily accessible to student athletes for addressing Title IX complaints, and who reports to the university’s Title IX Coordinator, housed in Student Affairs.
- The department conducts an annual evaluation of conduct and Title IX violations.
- The department collects and reports Key Performance Indicators and other data trends related to Title IX Compliance.

Student Athlete Advisory Committee.
- Partners with the Multicultural Center (in Student Affairs) to provide resources and recognition for student-athletes from diverse backgrounds.
- Creates communities addressing Diversity and Inclusion within Athletics.

Student Athlete Spring Survey
- Every Spring, Athletics collects information from a department wide survey to analyze gaps in treatment with various groups of student-athletes.
- Questions cover such things as:
  - Treatment based on individual demographics (race, sex, SES, etc.)
  - Support from across campus
  - Resources within department
  - Challenges and barriers preventing further success
  - Overall satisfaction with EOU

Academic Affairs.

DPD Requirement. Beginning in Academic year 2010, all EOU students earning a bachelor’s degree have been required to complete at least four credit hours of coursework in “Difference, Power, and Discrimination” (DPD). DPD courses are required to meet the following three criteria:
- DPD Courses engage students in the intellectual examination of the structures, systems, and ideologies that create and sustain discrimination and the unequal distribution of power and resources in society.
- DPD Courses review the effects of unequal distribution of power and discrimination within the framework of particular disciplines and course content.
- DPD Courses provide an opportunity to examine the contributions of underrepresented groups within the framework of particular disciplines.

Currently, 45 courses at the university qualify as DPD courses, assuring students a broad variety of academic subject areas in which they may fulfill this requirement.

College of Education. Consistent with the university’s founding mission as a normal school, Eastern Oregon University’s College of Education plays a leadership role statewide in preparing diverse teachers for careers in Oregon’s public schools, particularly in the rural areas of the state. This year:
- The EOU College of Education’s Early Childhood Education program received an ‘A’ in diversity from the National Council on Teacher Quality (NCTQ).
- The EOU College of Education was ranked 4th in the nation for the affordability of its Early Childhood Education Program.

Oregon Teacher Pathway. Culturally and linguistically diverse students make up a third of the student population in Oregon public schools. There has been a longstanding need to recruit a more diverse pool of K-12 public school teachers to better serve these students, schools, and communities. The Oregon Teacher Pathway program of EOU’s College of Education has been at the forefront of the effort to recruit and train these teachers. The goals of the Oregon Teacher Pathway program (OTP) are to:

- Diversify teacher education by increasing the number of quality diverse teachers in Oregon, and
- Produce quality teachers trained in culturally responsive practice.

To reach these goals, the program focuses on recruiting, educating, and retaining pre-service teachers of color and pre-service teachers interested in becoming culturally responsive teachers. OTP is centered on student success by:

- Partnering with local schools and community organizations,
- Developing mentors at the high school and college level, and
- Recruiting, retaining, supporting, and graduating quality teacher candidates.

Center for Culturally Responsive Practices. Complimenting the work of the Oregon Teacher Pathway program is EOU’s Center for Culturally Responsive Practices (CCRP). The goal of the CCRP is to train administrators and instructors at all levels of education in how to integrate culturally responsive pedagogy and practices into their work. Currently in a diminished role due to funding concerns, the CCRP is intended to provide:

- Access to current research in culturally responsive pedagogy and practices.
- Resources that identify how culturally responsive practices can be used to promote equity and engaged learning across the curriculum.
- Access to tools on how culturally responsive practices can be used to reach educational learning outcomes and standards.
- Engagement in a collegial, safe environment to explore and discuss the difficulties and perceptions of learning and development of culturally responsive teaching.
- Opportunities to collect data, perform research, and promote the scholarship of culturally responsive practices.
- A support for continuing assessment, research and implementation of strategies to improve teaching and learning based research.
- Participation in forums to share research and teaching strategies with colleagues and in the surrounding community.

Finance and Administration.

Financial Aid Office. The Financial Aid Office supports recruitment and retention of qualified students by administering financial aid programs that increase access to higher education. The office supports access and choice by offering need and merit based federal, state, and institutional funding. Further, we support student success by providing timely award notifications, accurate information and professional, student friendly financial aid counseling. As Oregon’s public university with the highest percentage of Pell-eligible students, the efforts of the Financial Aid Office are essential to achievement of the university’s DEIA goals.

Human Resources.

The Human Resources Department is a key component in university compliance with discrimination laws affecting employees, and in influencing institutional culture to create a more diverse, equitable, inclusive, and accessible workplace for all. The Human Resources Director serves as the university’s Equal Employment Opportunity (EEO) officer and as a Deputy Title IX Coordinator. The Human Resources Director is an ex officio liaison to the Diversity Committee.
Office of the University General Counsel and Board Secretary.

This office administers the university’s mechanisms for adopting and codifying university polices. University policies that address DEIA topics include:

6.05.05  Affirmative Action and Anti-Discrimination Policy
6.05.07  Non-Discrimination in Employment Policy
6.05.10  Policy Prohibiting Illegal Discrimination Affecting Students
6.05.12  Title IX Policy
6.05.15  Sexual Harassment Policy
6.05.20  Consensual Relationships Policy
6.05.25  Religious Activities Policy
6.05.30  Assistance Animal Policy for Service and Emotional Support
6.15.15  Public Demonstrations Policy

4. Eastern Oregon University’s Pursuit of DEIA Goals has Won Impressive Successes.

The Diversity, Equity, Inclusion and Access Strategic Plan illustrates, on pages 10, 11, and 12 of the plan, the steady progress Eastern Oregon University has made over the past decade in achieving DEIA goals associated with Enrollment, Completion, and Employment.

Conclusion

This First Biennial Report has reviewed the work that Eastern Oregon University has engaged in over the past decades to advance diversity, equity, inclusion and access at the university. EOU’s record demonstrates a continuous and increasing concern with articulating and achieving DEIA goals. This work has been incorporated into every level and division of the university. The future direction and goals of the university related to diversity, equity, inclusion and access are contained in the newly amended Diversity, Equity, Inclusion and Access Strategic Plan. That plan provides additional goals related to DEIA and metrics for measuring the university’s achievement of those goals. All this work meets and exceeds the requirements of HB 2864 (2017). Our progress in achieving those goals will be reviewed in future biennial reports.

CHAPTER ..........................................................

AN ACT

Relating to cultural competence at post-secondary institutions of education.

Be It Enacted by the People of the State of Oregon:

SECTION 1. (1) As used in this section:
(a) “Board” means:
(A) For a public university listed in ORS 352.002, the governing board of the university; or
(B) For a community college, the board of education of a community college district.
(b) “Community college district” has the meaning given that term in ORS 341.005.
(c) “Cultural competency” means an understanding of how institutions and individuals can respond respectfully and effectively to people from all cultures, economic statuses, language backgrounds, races, ethnic backgrounds, disabilities, religions, genders, gender identifications, sexual orientations, veteran statuses and other characteristics in a manner that recognizes, affirms and values the worth, and preserves the dignity, of individuals, families and communities.
(d) “Governing board” has the meaning given that term in ORS 352.029.
(e) “Public institution of higher education” has the meaning given that term in ORS 350.350.

(2) Each public institution of higher education shall establish a process for recommending, and providing oversight for the implementation of, cultural competency standards for the public institution of higher education and the institution’s employees. The process established under this subsection must:
(a) Include a broad range of institutional perspectives;
(b) Give equal weight to the perspectives of administrators, faculty members, staff and students;
(c) Require that the institution provide continuing training and development opportunities that foster the ability of the institution’s faculty, staff and administration to meet cultural competency standards;
(d) Propose institution-wide goals that seek to improve the cultural inclusion climate for students, faculty, staff and administration from diverse backgrounds;
(e) Require preparation of a biennial report that is presented to the appropriate board regarding the institution’s progress toward achieving the goals set forth in this subsection;
(f) Recommend mechanisms for assessing how well the institution meets cultural competency standards; and

(g) Ensure that the institution clearly communicates to new faculty, staff and administrators the institution's commitment to including meeting cultural competency standards in professional development.

SECTION 2. (1) As used in this section:
   (a) "Cultural competency" has the meaning given that term in section 1 of this 2017 Act; and
   (b) "Public institution of higher education" has the meaning given that term in section 1 of this 2017 Act.

(2) Each public institution of higher education shall:
   (a) Not later than December 31, 2019, establish a committee or other entity, or establish a process, that complies with the requirements set forth in section 1 (2)(a) and (b) of this 2017 Act and that will enable the public institution of higher education to recommend, and provide oversight for the implementation of, cultural competency standards for the public institution of higher education and the institution's employees; and
   (b) Not later than December 31, 2020, be in compliance with all of the requirements set forth in section 1 of this 2017 Act.
Thank you for your enthusiastic leadership and commitment to advancing EOU’s support of intercultural competency, inclusiveness and diversity. I especially appreciate your willingness to serve as chairperson of the university’s Diversity Committee.

EOU is committed to ensuring our university is a great place to work and learn. The work of the Diversity Committee is important to us achieving and sustaining this goal. In our meeting on Wednesday, October 9, we discussed our shared desire to improve the effectiveness and impact of the Diversity Committee. Additionally, we discussed House Bill (HB) 2864 and its requirements.

We identified three opportunities for increasing the effectiveness of the Diversity Committee. One, the annual turnover of leadership of the committee creates continuity challenges from one year to the next. New committee chairs may lack an awareness of prior work by the committee and/or must allocate significant time to learn about the various aspects of diversity and inclusion work that is ongoing across the institution. Two, there appears to be varying levels of accountability among members of the committee. This can lead to workload challenges for a select few committee members. Three, committee work and priorities are not always clearly heard by key decision makers and can lead to constraints in resources. My hope is we can positively impact these gaps while also meeting the requirements of HB2864.

HB 2864 includes certain requirements that pertain to the work of EOU’s Diversity Committee. Below I have summarized these requirements—a link to HB2864 is also attached if you wish to review it in its entirety.

House Bill 2864 Summary (House Bill 2864 Full Document):
- Each public institution of higher education shall establish a process for recommending, and providing oversight for the implementation of, cultural competency standards for the public institution of higher education and the institution’s employees. The process established under this subsection must:

- Include a broad range of institutional perspectives;
- Give equal weight to the perspective of administrators, faculty members, staff and students;
- Require the institution provide continuing training and development opportunities that foster the ability of the institution to meet cultural competency standards;
- Propose institution-wide goals that seek to improve the cultural inclusion climate for students, faculty, staff and administration from diverse backgrounds;
- Require preparation of a biennial report that is presented to the appropriate board regarding the institution’s progress toward achieving the goals set forth in this subsection;
- Recommend mechanisms for assessing how well the institution meets cultural competency standards; and
- Ensure the institution clearly communicates to new faculty, staff and administrators the commitment to including cultural competency standards in professional development.

Currently, the Diversity Committee does not meet the representation requirements of HB2864 given there are five faculty members and only two members from classified staff, administrative professionals, and the student body. I ask the committee to determine how to best address the “equal weight” expectation of HB 2864 while also considering keeping the committee at a manageable size.

The EOU Constitution provides for a “secondary non-voting advisory group selected by the diversity committee [that] will include interested faculty/staff/students who work specifically in the area of difference and diversity and represent/advocate for/work with groups based upon (but not limited to): socioeconomic status, race/ethnicity, culture, religion, age, gender, sexual orientation, veteran status, and disability.”

We discussed the possibility that the Diversity Committee Advisory Group could provide needed expertise, guidance, and support to accomplish desired outcomes for EOU and compliance with HB2864. I request the Diversity Committee consider appointing standing positions (members) to this group to provide continuity and resource support for completing reports and seeking budgetary support for Diversity Committee initiatives. This group can also provide continuity for the Diversity Committee when experiencing committee turnover.

My recommendation for positions (current position holders) to be included on the advisory group are the following.

- Director of Multicultural Center (Bennie Moses)
The Diversity Committee, of course, has freedom to choose other advisory group members they feel will fulfill a level of expertise and provide appropriate guidance.

Thank you for your continued efforts and hard work as chair to ensure this committee and its endeavors are successful. I look forward to seeing the achievements made over this next year, and the long-term benefits campus-wide.
DIVERSITY, EQUITY, INCLUSION AND ACCESS STRATEGIC PLAN 2020

Diversity in Context

Diversity is a strength, a competitive advantage, and a moral imperative. Diversity, Equity, Inclusion and Access (DEIA) is about intentionally breaking down barriers, in order to shape the culture and the workforce of the University to be more reflective of the pluralistic world our students encounter. It means having a broad representation of individuals, and embraces the richness and possibilities of diverse experiences, ideas and perspectives needed to create a rich learning and working environment. It encourages all members of the EOU community to take ownership for creating a welcoming, safe, inclusive, and supportive climate.

Diversity at Eastern Oregon University implies learning and working with people who come from a variety of backgrounds and perspectives. This richness of difference is made more complex by the fact that individuals and groups have different histories, different sensibilities, and at times, different expectations. When we speak of diversity we mean differences of age, physical abilities, ethnicity, culture, color, race, gender, gender identity, sexual orientation, marital status, appearance, education, national origin, citizenship, religious beliefs, veteran status, socioeconomic class or status, political affiliations and beliefs, and diversity of thought, ideas, perspectives, or other ideologies. Because the breadth of human difference is limitless and evolving, the participants in the diverse culture we seek resist easy classification, categorization, or labeling. This list is, therefore, suggestive.

The Case for Diversity

The case for diversity in institutions of higher education is particularly compelling. Students exposed to differences with which they are unfamiliar emerge from the educational process with a greater understanding of the values and benefits of, diversity, equity, inclusion, and access. In many cases, they approach an increasingly complex world with a greater measure of personal adaptability and resilience. Research has confirmed that employees working in diverse pluralistic environments find them more enriching, more satisfying, and more motivating. This leads to higher levels of productivity and contribution, morale and retention, and constructive participation. In effect, a diverse and inclusive culture can lead to enhanced creativity, innovation, and collaboration, factors critical to an institution’s adaptive behavior in facing change, and the imperatives of ensuring long term sustainability.

Despite consistent focus on diversity in EOU’s mission and strategic planning, EOU remains remarkably homogeneous. As an institution, the realization and understanding of our history and its impact paves the way to maintain a sustainable future, provides an opportunity for us to consider how we utilize a DEIA lens to create an equitable educational institution that is positioned to make excellence inclusive.
DEFINITIONS

Access
Access/accessibility refers to giving equitable access to everyone regardless of background, ability and experience. It refers to how organizations encompass and celebrate the characteristics and talents that each individual brings to the organization. It is about representation for all.

Further, access involves the demonstration of a commitment to removal of behaviors, processes, policies that are barriers to inclusion, prevent participation, or increase opportunity gaps.

Accountability
In the context of racial equity work, accountability refers to the ways in which individuals and communities hold themselves to their goals and actions, and acknowledge the values and groups to which they are responsible.

To be accountable, one must be visible and intentional, with a transparent agenda and process. Invisibility defies examination; it is, in fact, employed in order to avoid detection and examination. Accountability demands commitment. It might be defined as “what kicks in when convenience runs out.” Accountability requires some sense of urgency and becoming a true stakeholder in the outcome. Accountability can be externally imposed (legal or organizational requirements), or internally applied (moral, relational, faith-based, or recognized as some combination of the two) on a continuum from the institutional and organizational level to the individual level. From a relational point of view, accountability is not always doing it right. Sometimes it’s really about what happens after it’s done wrong.

Cultural Competency
State of Oregon Definition of Cultural Competency (HB 2864) is “‘Cultural competency’ means an understanding of how institutions and individuals can respond respectfully and effectively to people from all cultures, economic statuses, language backgrounds, races, ethnic backgrounds, disabilities, religions, genders, gender identifications, sexual orientations, veteran statuses and other characteristics in a manner that recognizes, affirms and values the worth, and preserves the dignity, of individuals, families and communities.”

EOU defines cultural competence as “A set of cognitive, affective, behavioral skills and characteristics that support effective and appropriate interactions with people from all cultures, economic statuses, language backgrounds, races, ethnic backgrounds, disabilities, religions, genders, gender identifications, sexual orientations, veteran statuses and other characteristics.”
Diversity
Diversity includes all the ways in which people differ, and it encompasses all the different characteristics that make one individual or group different from another. By its very nature, diversity is all-inclusive and recognizes everyone and every group as part of the diversity that should be valued. A broad definition includes not only race, ethnicity, and gender — the groups that most often come to mind when the term "diversity" is used — but also age, national origin, religion, disability, sexual orientation, socioeconomic status, education, marital status, language, gender identity, and physical appearance. It also involves different ideas, perspectives, and values.

Equity
Equity in education is the notion that each and every learner will receive the necessary resources they need individually to thrive in Oregon’s schools no matter what their national origin, race, gender, sexual orientation, differently abled, first language, or other distinguishing characteristic.

The notion of being fair and impartial as an individual engages with an organization or system, particularly systems of grievance. It reflects processes and practices that both acknowledge that we live in a world where everyone has not been afforded the same resources and treatment while also working to remedy this fact. “Equity” is often conflated with the term “Equality” which means sameness and assumes, incorrectly, that we all have had equal access, treatment, and outcomes. In fact, true equity implies that an individual may need to experience or receive something different (not equal) in order to maintain fairness and access. For example, a person with a wheelchair may need differential access to an elevator relative to someone else.

Ethnicity
A social category that divides people into smaller social groups based on characteristics such as shared sense of group membership, values, behavioral patterns, language, political and economic interests, history and ancestral geographical base. Examples of different ethnic groups are: Cape Verdean, Haitian, African American (Black); Chinese, Korean, Vietnamese (Asian); Cherokee, Mohawk, Navaho (Native American); Cuban, Mexican, Puerto Rican (Latino); Polish, Irish, and Swedish (White).
Inclusion
Authentically and intentionally bringing traditionally excluded individuals and/or groups into processes, activities, and decision/policy making in a way that shares power.

Intercultural Competence
Intercultural Knowledge and Competence is "a set of cognitive, affective, and behavioral skills and characteristics that support effective and appropriate interaction in a variety of cultural contexts."

Opportunity Gap:
The lack of opportunity that many social groups face in our common quest for educational attainment and the shift of attention from the current overwhelming emphasis on schools in discussions of the opportunity gap to more fundamental questions about social and educational opportunities.

Race
Race is a social —not biological—construct. We understand the term “race” to mean a racial or ethnic group that is generally recognized in society and often by the government. When referring to those groups, we often use the terminology “people of color” or “communities of color” (or a name of the specific racial and/or ethnic group) and “white.” We also understand that racial and ethnic categories differ internationally, and that many local communities are international communities. In some societies, ethnic, religious and caste groups are oppressed and racialized. These dynamics can occur even when the oppressed group is numerically in the majority.

Racial Justice
Racial justice is the systematic fair treatment of people of all races that results in equitable opportunities and outcomes for everyone. All people are able to achieve their full potential in life, regardless of race, ethnicity or the community in which they live. A “racial justice” framework can move us from a reactive posture to a more powerful, proactive and even preventive approach.

SOURCE: https://www.aecf.org/blog/racial-justice-definitions/#:~:text=Racial%20justice%20is%20the%20systematic,community%20in%20which%20they%20live.

Social Justice

Social justice is about equal rights, opportunities, and treatment. “Social justice encompasses economic justice and equity. Social justice is the virtue which guides us in creating those organized human interactions we call institutions. In turn, social institutions, when justly organized, provide us with access to what is good for the person, both individually and in our associations with others. Social justice also imposes on each of us a personal responsibility to work with others to design and continually perfect our institutions as tools for personal and social development.”

As a social institution of higher education it is our responsibility to provide students with a lens that includes attention towards creating social justice and equity. “A social justice approach to teacher education begins with the idea that a central purpose of education is to redress social, economic, and political inequities. Its intellectual roots lie within a radical progressive tradition. In this conception, a good teacher understands socioeconomic and political forces that maintain structural inequality and oppression, including how schools as institutions reinforce the status quo and further inequitable educational experiences. Given the centrality of race, ethnicity, and class in inequality, a social justice approach to teaching involves an ongoing commitment to grapple with these matters.”

An analysis of how power, privilege, and oppression impact our experience of our social identities. “Full and equal participation of all groups in a society that is mutually shaped to meet their needs. Social justice includes a vision of society in which the distribution of resources is equitable” and all members of a space, community, or institution, or society are “physically and psychologically safe and secure.” (Adams et al. 2016)

“… social justice is both a process and a goal. The goal of social justice is full and equal participation of all groups in a society that is mutually shaped to meet their needs. Social justice includes a vision of society in which the distribution of resources is equitable and all members are psychologically and physically safe and secure.” (Bell, 2013, p. 21).

Underserved Students/populations:
Students whom systems have placed at risk because the systems have operationalized deficit-based thinking. Deficit thinking is the practice of having lower expectations for certain groups of people based on demographics or characteristics that they share. In doing so, an “at-risk” narrative is formed, in which students navigating poverty, culturally and linguistically diverse students, and/or historically underserved groups, and their families are pathologized and marginalized. This includes students who are treated differently because of their gender, race, sexual orientation, dis/ability, and geographic location. Many students are not served well in our education system because of the conscious and unconscious bias, stereotyping, and racism that is embedded within our current inequitable education system.

FRAMING DOCUMENTS

Eastern Oregon University (EOU) is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity employer and educator, committed to building a diverse and inclusive community and learning environment. Valuing diversity and making cultural competence inclusive, equitable, and accessible for diverse learners and employees is a key element to fulfillment of the University’s mission, values, institutional goals, and the requirements of HB 2864.

Mission:
EOU guides student inquiry through integrated, high-quality liberal arts and professional programs that lead to responsible and reflective action in a diverse and interconnected world.

As an educational, cultural and scholarly center, EOU connects the rural regions of Oregon to a wider world. Our beautiful setting and small size enhance the personal attention our students receive, while partnerships with colleges, universities, agencies and communities add to the educational possibilities of our region and state.

EOU Values:

Altruism: We give selflessly to empower one another and the University community through inclusiveness, appreciation, and stewardship.

Civility: We believe in the free and open exchange of ideas, embrace diverse backgrounds, and deliberately seek multiple perspectives.

Discovery: We honor our heritage and invest in our future with innovation, vision, and creativity.

Integrity: We uphold the foundation of professionalism, honesty, respect, and sincerity in all of our interactions.
Interdependence: We cultivate vibrant connections and relationships to enhance opportunity and success locally and globally.

Quality: We passionately pursue intellectual engagement, academic rigor, and the highest standards in all endeavors.

Institutional Goals: Excerpted from EOU’s STRATEGIC FRAMEWORK: The Ascent 2029

Goal 4: Thriving University Community – A great place to work and learn
- Objective 1: Foster an inviting and supportive university culture that exemplifies EOU’s values and principles
- Objective 2: Support intercultural competency, inclusiveness, and diversity
- Objective 3: Provide and maintain a campus that promotes quality of life for students, faculty, staff, and the community

Diversity plan (2017): Excerpted Framing Statement

Eastern Oregon University is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity employer and educator, committed to building a diverse and inclusive community and learning environment. Making excellence inclusive is a key element of the University. The following aims are designed to support the recruitment and retention of students from underserved groups through:
- Access to resources (from admissions, financial aid, work, advising, and academics).
- Ensuring diverse, equitable, and inclusive student, faculty, staff, and administrator participation in the campus community.
- Striving to make the educational experience equitable and inclusive through responsive curricular and co-curricular innovation.

Background

EOU Demographics. As of fall term 2019, approximately twenty-eight percent of EOU students (on-line, on-site, and on-campus) identified themselves as members of culturally / ethnically diverse groups. The largest and growing percentage of that population claim Latino/Hispanic identity, a pattern that parallels demographic trends in Eastern Oregon. Further, underserved students (those identifying as culturally / ethnically diverse, low income, and / or first generation) make up the majority of EOU students (63%). Fifty-nine percent of EOU students are women, which is slightly higher compared to both the U.S. Census rate (51%) and the national college participation rate for women (57%). The following is a demonstration of the enrollment headcounts at EOU as of Fall 2019 as well as the enrollment, graduation and employment trends.

National Demographics. According to the 2010 US census, nationally, over forty percent of elementary and secondary school children, and forty percent of high school graduates, were students of color or ethnic minorities. Demographic trends suggest that by the year 2060 current ethnic-minority groups will comprise the majority of the U.S. population.

In the end, the ways in which we respond to these demographic and cultural transitions will determine the future character, complexion, and vitality of Eastern Oregon University. Moreover, for many of our traditional students, each of whom is at an important stage in their development, Eastern Oregon University represents their first sustained exposure to an environment other than their home community. We have an obligation to prepare them for a much more diverse world than their parents and grandparents likely encountered.
The following embeds explicit direction from HB 2864 2.a-g within the Diversity Strategic Plan (2017)

Diversity Committee Mission
To promote mutual respect, participation, and inclusiveness in all aspects of the university community, both on and off-campus. This charter directly supports the overall mission of the University to encourage responsible and reflective action in a diverse and interconnected world, and the University’s values, principles, and strategic goals.

Diversity Committee Organization. The Diversity Committee is a standing committee of EOU’s governance framework. The committee reports to the University council. EOU’s Constitution describes the Diversity Committee as consisting of 11 members: Four (4) academic faculty members, two (2) from Arts and Sciences, one (1) from Education, one (1) from Business, and one (1) librarian, plus two (2) administrative faculty members, two (2) classified staff members, two (2) students, and the Affirmative Action Officer, who shall serve ex-officio. Additionally, the diversity committee consults with interested faculty/staff/students who work specifically in the area of diversity and represent/advocate for/work with groups based upon (but not limited to): socioeconomic status, race/ethnicity, culture, religion, age, gender, sexual orientation, veteran status, and disability. They may be called upon for various purposes; in addition, they will be encouraged to attend meetings as appropriate.

Diversity Committee Duties and Responsibilities
The duties and responsibilities of the Diversity Committee include the following:

- To advise the University Council and University President on matters related to diversity, equity, inclusion and access (DEIA);
- To formulate and facilitate diversity policy, to include a campus-wide diversity plan and the review of existing policies and practices;
- To promote public education, collaboration and special events that focus on diversity, equity, inclusion and access.;
- To review and report progress on the achievement of strategic plan objectives related to DEIA;
- To serve as an advisory resource for the campus community both on and off-campus on DEIA issues;
- To work with faculty on changes in the curriculum related to issues of diversity.
- Intentional trainings for Diversity Committee members
- Advocate for training opportunities for staff and faculty

Diversity Committee Advisory Group Organization. The EOU Constitution provides for a “secondary non-voting advisory group selected by the diversity committee [that] will include interested faculty/staff/students who work specifically in the area of difference and diversity and represent/advocate for/work with groups based upon (but not limited to): socioeconomic status, race/ethnicity, culture, religion, age, gender, sexual orientation, veteran status, and disability.” In October 2019, the President of EOU recommended that the Diversity Committee establish an advisory group that could provide needed expertise, guidance, and support for providing the desired outcomes for EOU and compliance with HB2864 as well as continuity and support for completing reports when the Diversity Committee experiences turnover in the governance process.

Effective June 2020, the standing membership of the Diversity Committee Advisory Group is as follows:

- Director of Student Diversity & Inclusion
- Associate Vice President, Institutional Effectiveness
- ASEOU Director for Diversity & Equity
- Faculty Member

The Advisory Group is overseen by the Chair of the Diversity Committee, whose work is supported by the Executive Assistant to the Provost, the Vice President for Student Affairs, the Provost and Sr. Vice President for Academic Affairs, and the Director of Human Resources.

Diversity Committee Advisory Group Duties and Responsibilities

The duties and responsibilities of the standing Diversity Committee Advisory Group include the following, in fulfillment of HB 2864 2.a-g:

2. . . . establish a process for recommending, and providing oversight for the implementation of, cultural competency standards for the public institution of higher education and the institution’s employees. The process established under this subsection [of HB 2864] must:

   a) Include a broad range of institutional perspectives;
   b) Give equal weight to the perspective of administrators, faculty members, staff and students;
   c) Require the institution provide continuing training and development opportunities that foster the ability of the institution to meet cultural competency standards;
   d) Propose institution-wide goals that seek to improve the cultural inclusion climate for students, faculty, staff and administration from diverse backgrounds;
   e) Require preparation of a biennial report that is presented to the appropriate board regarding the institution’s progress toward achieving the goals set forth in this subsection;
   f) Recommend mechanisms for assessing how well the institution meets cultural competency standards; and
   g) Ensure the institution clearly communicates to new faculty, staff and administrators the commitment to including cultural competency standards in professional development.

Plan Development

This Strategic Plan represents the collaborative effort of all participating members of EOU’s Diversity Committee as informed by recommendations from the Diversity Committee Advisory Group. The elected membership is highly diverse and representative of campus constituencies, while the appointed Advisory Group gives “equal weight to the perspectives of administrators, faculty members, staff and students” (HB 2864 Section 1.2 a-b). As such, this plan is a consensus document that is intended to serve as a blueprint for strengthening diversity initiatives at Eastern Oregon University.

There are many dimensions, nuances, and priorities possible in preparing such a plan. This plan is not meant to be comprehensive. Rather, the proposed goals, strategies and actions have been intentionally limited in number and complexity. This approach is designed to provide a framework that is straightforward and practical, actionable and achievable, and measurable. As the Advisory Group further develops cultural competency standards, goals, objectives, KPIs, and targets for monitoring progress in the institution's diversity, equity, inclusion and access strategic plan for training and development of students and employees, actions will be assessed annually and reported biennially (HB 2864 Section 1.2.c-f).

Updates on expectations for training and development will be vetted and approved by the Diversity Committee, the University Council, and the President’s Cabinet. Through these representative governance bodies, cultural competency standards, learning outcomes and professional development expectations will be clearly communicated to existing students and employees, and will become part of the onboarding process for new students and employees (HB 2864 Section 1.2.g).
DIVERSITY COMMITTEE
STRATEGIC GOALS 2017-2023

Goal 1: Recruitment, Retention, and Development
Objective: Increase and retain the diverse students, faculty, staff, administrative professionals, and administrators through targeted and innovative recruitment, retention, and professional development.

Strategy 1 - Recruitment: Develop and support recruitment policies, strategies, and processes that ensure equal opportunity and progressively expand the number of highly qualified diverse candidates for student, faculty, staff, and administrator openings.

Strategy 2 - Retention: Better understand the factors related to successful recruitment and retention of a diverse student body and all EOU employees. Promote and intentional recruitment strategies to hiring and retaining faculty, staff and students of color. Support mentoring programs that increase retention of historically underserved staff and faculty.

Strategy 3 – Development & Opportunities: Strengthen existing policies and practices and develop new programs that ensure the professional growth and advancement of a diverse and culturally competent workforce at EOU. Develop an intentional diversity, equity, and access learning pathway for employees to be able to support their growth and meet them where they are at.

Progress Milestones
1. Progressive improvement every year in the total number of students, faculty, staff and administrators from underserved minority groups.
2. Retention rates of underserved minority and women students, faculty, staff and administrators are at least equal to those of the majority.
3. Promotion and advancement rates of underserved racial and ethnic minority faculty, staff and administrators are roughly equal to those of the majority.
4. Promotion and advancement rates of men and women faculty, staff and administrators are roughly equivalent to those of the majority.
Goal 2: Campus Culture and Climate

Objective: Foster a campus culture and climate that will respect differences, encourage inclusiveness, and reflect diversity in accordance with the values and principles of the University.

Campus climate is described as the current beliefs, judgments, and outlooks within an academic society about race, ethnicity, and diversity (Hurtado, Milem, Clayton-Pederson, & Allen, 1999). It is a critical component of promoting an inclusive work and learning community, especially for historically underserved population because the climate is indicative of whether a person feels safe, welcome, included and validated as a member of the campus community.

Strategy 1 – Reward and Recognition: Tangible support, recognition and reward are afforded faculty, academic departments, staff and administrators that engage in meaningful diversity initiatives that make a difference at Eastern Oregon University.

Strategy 2 – Demonstrate Leadership Commitment: Communicate to EOU students, faculty, staff, administrators and external constituents that the leaders of the university are firmly committed to progressively achieving a diverse workforce, culture, and educational experience at EOU.

Leadership collaborates with stakeholders to improve the cultural inclusion climate for students, faculty, staff and administration from diverse backgrounds through challenging existing processes, practices, and policies and addressing barriers to the support, growth and development of all students, faculty and staff.

Strategy 3 – Promoting Cultural Awareness: Promote programs, activities, and initiatives that enhance cultural awareness for the entire campus and surrounding communities and foster education, constructive dialogue, and honest reflection on diversity.

Strategy 4 – Grievance Processes: Ensure that formal grievance processes are in place and well-communicated to report, investigate, and resolve all allegations of discrimination, disparate treatment, and intolerant behavior within the EOU community and its external relationships.

Progress Milestones

1. The goal of expanding all dimensions of diversity at Eastern Oregon University (access, retention, culture, excellence) is an integral component of the University’s strategic plan and academic planning efforts.
2. Regular communications to all University constituencies that emphasize the institution’s commitment to diversity, equity, inclusion, and access, and to its aspirations for achieving a diverse workforce, inclusive culture, and educational experience.
3. Campus climate surveys on diversity and equity report improving perceptions of a safe and inclusive environment, free of harassment or discrimination, where the proximity of interaction is constructive and informing.

4. Integration of activities that enhance cultural awareness, promote greater social interactions and understanding of cross-cultural communication, and encourage constructive dialogue and reflection on diversity.

Goal 3: Community Outreach and Engagement

Objective: Build and strengthen partnerships with diverse communities, community-centric organizations, and civic and government entities to advance diversity and multiculturalism in the University and the region.

Progress Milestones

1. Community organizations and governmental entities, including law enforcement, routinely look to the University as a competent resource for building community awareness and understanding of diverse populations.

2. An increasing number of ethnic minority students from Eastern Oregon and Eastern Washington, and Southwestern Idaho high schools choose to apply for admission to EOU.

Goal 4: Curriculum and Pedagogy

Objective: Infuse and maintain the principles of diversity in the curriculum. Promote pedagogical strategies that foster respect of differences in perspective and circumstance, encourage student involvement, and prepare students for success in a world growing more diverse and complex.

Strategy 1 – Embedding Diversity: Strengthen existing curriculum and pedagogical practices to include the experiences of diverse peoples, examine and assess theories of human difference, analyze historical and contemporary structures of inequality, and review their impact.

Progress Milestones

1. Over time, the amount of core coursework incorporating Difference, Power, and Discrimination (DPD) principles, a requirement for graduation, is progressively increasing.

2. Students graduating from EOU are prepared to work effectively across ‘lines of difference’ in diverse communities and workplaces.
Goal 5: Management, Measurement, and Accountability

Objective: Design and develop a comprehensive system that defines responsibilities and accountabilities and measures progress toward achieving a culturally diverse academic community, an improved campus climate, and advancing the knowledge of diversity and differences in perspectives (see Appendix A).

Strategy 1 – DEIA Strategic Plan: Craft, communicate, and implement a comprehensive Diversity, Equity, Inclusion, and Access Strategic Plan that reinforces these concepts within the values and principles of Eastern Oregon University.

Strategy 2 - Measurement and Reporting: Create assessment and reporting processes that systematically measure and communicate progress toward implementing all goals of the DEIA Strategic Plan.

Strategy 3 – Closed Loop System: Create feedback loops that ensure acquired information, metrics, research and assessment (survey) data, and learning from experience inform future planning and policy.

Progress Milestones

1. Plans are in place that assign accountability, timetables, and metrics for all actions in support of DEIA goals and strategies.
2. Plans are in place to periodically review with Cabinet and the campus community accomplishments, progress and effectiveness of DEIA strategies and actions.
3. Campus climate surveys on diversity and equity report improving perceptions of a safe and inclusive environment, free of harassment or discrimination, where the proximity of interaction is constructive and informing (see Goal 2: Campus Culture and Climate).

\(^{1}\) Note that diversity strategic plans from the following universities furnished useful structure, concepts, goals, strategies, actions and language adapted in the formulation of EOU's plan: UCLA, Auburn University, University of Puget Sound, Regis University, Emerson College, Central Michigan University, Brown University, Cornell University. This 2020 revision of the 2017 Diversity Strategic Plan incorporates a title change (DEIA Strategic Plan) that reflects the emphasis of HB 2864, and also adopts the system of annual effectiveness reporting maintained by our Institutional Effectiveness office.
APPENDIX A
Diversity Committee Annual Effectiveness Report – 2020-21 (Start of Year)

Instructions:

The purpose of this report is to facilitate monitoring of continuous improvement by the Diversity Committee Advisory Group to the Diversity Committee. The report contains two main sections, mission alignment and performance improvement. In the mission alignment section, DEIA Strategic Goals should be listed and the connection to the institution’s strategic plan goals should be indicated. In the performance improvement section, strategies are expanded upon through the inclusion of planned actions, benchmark indicators (key performance indicators), and analysis of progress.

Definitions:

Objective/Strategy – A specific result the Diversity Committee is attempting to achieve. Should be derived from the Diversity Committee mission and consistent with the mission, values, and Strategic Plan: Ascent 2029 Goals for the institution.

Action – Planned new or modified activities designed to facilitate the achievement of the unit objective(s) often through evidence of improvements in one or more key performance indicators.

Key Performance Indicator (KPI) – A measure used to show progress compared to previous year toward achieving the unit objective(s). Quantifiable at least annually if not more often.

Analysis – Summary of impact on KPIs and objectives by actions taken. Should include synthesis and reflection to enable creation of the next effectiveness report (e.g. Annual or Mid-Year) and in preparation of biennial reporting expectations to the Board.

Goal 1: Recruitment, Retention, and Development

Objective: Increase and retain the diverse students, faculty, staff, administrative professionals, and administrators through targeted and innovative recruitment, retention, and professional development.

Strategy 1: Recruitment

Actions (strategies and tactics)

Students:

- Conduct an assessment of the current state of student matriculation disaggregated by race, gender, ethnicity, first generation status, income, institutional funding, etc.
- Increase specific and targeted recruiting efforts of underserved groups. Translate materials and media into Spanish and other languages where we have a significant number of students.
- Make fee remissions available for students who specifically assist in the recruitment and retention of students from underserved groups.
- Conduct review and evaluation of residence requirements for new freshmen through an equity lens by the end of AY21.
- Conduct and review Admissions Foreign Language requirement for incoming freshman and Deficiency in Foreign Language requirement for those whose degree program requires it for graduation.
- Consider increasing funding for recruitment and matriculation of diverse students.
- Continue supporting pre-collegiate programs targeted at underserved student populations (e.g., Oregon Teacher Pathway and Eastern Promise).
- Address barriers to recruitment in order to ensure that intentional efforts are made. These include,
  - Financial Barriers - Identify and address the barriers that limit access for Equity populations to matriculation.
  - Recruitment Strategies - Create and implement linguistically and culturally specific recruitment strategies (e.g. marketing materials, recruitment locations, community engagement, etc.)
  - Recruitment Timing - Develop and implement middle school and early high school recruitment strategies which incorporate college preparation materials to support a college-going culture.
  - Intentional and Long-Term Investment from administration with institutional support - Increase the visibility of institutional support services for underserved populations in the recruitment process and expand services to include community partners
  - Cultural competency of campus partners.
  - Expand training of the campus community regarding unique needs of the students we serve.
All Employees:

- Make greater use of diversity-centric advertising venues, networking, and targeted recruitment of diverse candidates.
- Continue improving the diversity website to provide smooth, rapid response through automated application and selection processes.
- Continue the training of search committees on the importance of diversity and the selection approaches and hiring practices that ensure equal opportunity.
- Enhance the recruitment process and search committee training to focus on the importance of diversity and hiring practices that ensure equal opportunity.

Strategy 2: Retention
Actions (strategies and tactics)

Students:
- Conduct an assessment of the current state of student academic performance disaggregated by race, gender, ethnicity, first generation status, income, etc.
  - Assess using an equity scorecard tool
- Conduct a biennial campus climate survey among students, focused on DEIA and use results to compare and track climate over time and inform strategies and actions.
- Expand mentoring programs for students in underserved groups.
- Provide opportunities for all students to interact, exchange ideas and reflect.
- Increase the graduation rates of African-Americans, Native-Americans, Asian /Pacific Islander, and Hispanic/Latino.
- Identify and address barriers to student success using an equity lens.
- Develop ongoing training opportunities for staff and faculty to facilitate inclusive and equitable supports, programs, and classroom environments that meet the diverse needs of our students.
- Implement the Bias Action Response team to address biases and hate incidents in line with Oregon SB577.

Faculty:
- Conduct a biennial campus climate survey among faculty, focused on DEIA and use results to compare and track climate over time and inform strategies and actions.
- Expand mentoring for new women faculty and those from underserved groups.
- Use information gathered to develop additional retention measures for women faculty and faculty from underserved groups.
- Intentional training and support for hiring, recruiting, and supporting faculty/staff of color and creating a black, Indigenous and people of color (BIPOC) Employee Resource Group

Staff, Administrative Professionals, and Executives:
- Conduct a biennial campus climate survey among staff and administrators, focused on DEIA and use results to compare and track climate over time and inform strategies and actions.
- Expand mentoring for new staff and administrators from underserved groups.
- Intentional training and support for hiring, recruiting, and supporting faculty/staff of color and creating a black, Indigenous and people of color (BIPOC) Employee Resource Group

Strategy 3: Development
Actions (strategies and tactics)

Faculty:
- Offer educational seminars to increase cultural competency among faculty to help them develop culturally responsive educational opportunities for students.
- Implement flexibility in training options that recognizes the breadth and depth of DEIA work and encourages involvement.
- Review percentage of university funding committed to faculty development and growth opportunities for women and minority faculty.
- Formalize efforts to retain, mentor, and promote faculty from underserved groups to tenured teaching and academic leadership positions.

- Encourage the Faculty Senate to broaden Faculty Development Funding Committee (FDFC) guidelines to promote and fund faculty attendance at academic conferences, workshops, seminars, and webinars that advance diversity and related networking (not just for those who present papers).
- Support professional development that highlights diversity and equity.
- Encourage greater ad-hoc peer-to-peer teaching by faculty as a means of expanding professional knowledge.

Staff and Administrators:

- Conduct structured focus groups with staff and administrators to generate discussion and definition around their perceived professional development needs, priorities, and interests, as a foundation for setting development goals and program design.
- Expand employee diversity training to incorporate increased opportunities and enhanced content.
- Implement flexibility in training options that recognizes the breadth and depth of DEIA work and encourages involvement.

Analysis (evaluation of progress)

Goal 2: Campus Culture and Climate

Objective: Foster a campus culture and climate that will respect differences, encourage inclusiveness, and reflect diversity in accordance with the values and principles of the University.

Strategy 1: Reward and Recognition

Actions (strategies and tactics)

- Establish an awards program to recognize and showcase outstanding and innovative diversity activities of faculty, staff, and administrators at EOU accomplished through teaching, research, community involvement, recruiting, etc. Recognize recipients at a university convocation or symposium.
- Empower, hold accountable and reward department chairs, deans, and administrators for diversifying their faculties and staff through recruitment and retention, in keeping with the University’s diversity mission.
- Support, reward, and recognize faculty and staff committed to supporting and advising cultural organizations and student clubs outside of their daily position expectation.

Strategy 2: Demonstrating Leadership Commitment

Actions (strategies and tactics)

- Ensure the university’s diversity website is maintained and updated regularly.
- Create a university-wide strategic statement of value utilized by all departments as a guiding principle to doing equity and inclusion work with a racial justice lens.
- Provide DEIA training for search committees, including implicit bias training, to ensure that DEIA is an integral mindset of all search committees.
- Engage the EOU community in DEIA efforts by making diversity a standing agenda item at least quarterly for executive Cabinet, Board of Trustees, University Council, and Faculty Senate meetings.
- Finalize the renaming of the library in AY21.
- Mandate annual DEIA training.
- The President and Provost actively reinforce the importance of diversity, equity, inclusion, and access in EOU media, university forums, convocations, and other venues.

Strategy 3: Promoting Cultural Awareness

Actions (strategies and tactics)

- Ensure all University websites related to diversity are maintained and updated regularly.
- Develop a campus-wide speaker series involving the invitation of prominent outside thinkers on DEIA.
- Create opportunities for open forums for students, faculty, staff, and administrators.
- Formalize coordination of efforts on the part of campus organizations and resources concerned with diversity.
- Using results from the MGUDS, develop and implement opportunities focused on improving cultural competency.

Strategy 4: Grievance Processes

Actions (strategies and tactics)

- Work with the campus Grievance Committee, Human Resources/Affirmative Action, Student Affairs, PCSW members, and Faculty to review, refine, and align existing policies and practices regarding discrimination, harassment, and intolerance.
- Develop a Bias Action Response Team - Require racial equity training of all members.

Objective: Build and strengthen partnerships with diverse communities, community-centric organizations, and civic and government entities to advance diversity and multiculturalism in the University and the region.

Strategy 1: Outreach and Engagement

Actions (strategies and tactics)

- Create an inventory of the La Grande/Union County community, civic, business, governmental organizations, and diverse communities, with key contact information and service descriptions.
- Create a bi-lingual 'speakers bureau' on diversity topics and publicize among local community organizations.
- Collaborate with Admissions, Financial Aid and other relevant departments to implement a culturally responsive approach/equity lens to their programming in middle and high schools and in the community that promotes and increases interest-level of ethnic minority students in Eastern Oregon, Eastern Washington, and Southern Idaho to pursue postsecondary education.

Actions (strategies and tactics)

- Offer professional development opportunities to faculty to increase cultural competency and encourage the development of a culturally responsive educational experience for students.
- Ensure that all curricular offerings addressing diversity provide opportunities for interaction and dialogue to enable students of different backgrounds and perspectives to learn about and from one another.
- Provide support for further integration of diversity, equity, inclusion and access content into new and existing courses.
- Review current Difference, Power and Discrimination courses and propose a racial equity assessment lens.

Analysis (evaluation of progress)

Goal 5: Management, Measurement, and Accountability

Objectives: Design and develop a comprehensive system that defines responsibilities and accountabilities and measures progress toward achieving a culturally diverse academic community, an improved campus climate, and advancing the knowledge of diversity and differences in perspectives (see Appendix A).

Strategy 1: Diversity Strategic Plan 2017 (and subsequent updates)
Actions (strategies and tactics)
- Assign Plan accountabilities, deliverables, and measures to responsible departments and individuals.
- Formally budget adequate funding to support diversity initiatives, programs, and processes approved as priorities in the DEIA Strategic Plan.

Strategy 2: Measurement and Reporting
Actions (strategies and tactics)
- Develop and implement an equity scorecard aligned with the DEIA Strategic Plan, to be reviewed during alternating years by the Cabinet, along with the status of progress on plan goals and objectives.
- Plan for a report and presentation to the campus community during alternating years on progress made toward achieving goals and objectives in the DEIA Strategic Plan.
- Conduct biennial campus climate surveys, focused on diversity, among students, faculty, staff, and administrators.
- Expand system capability to incorporate gender identities in accordance with Oregon Senate Bill 473.
- Establish KPIs focused on areas of disproportionality in relation to DEIA by the end of AY21.

Strategy 3: Closed Loop System
Actions (strategies and tactics)
- The biennial report and presentation on progress made toward achieving goals in the DEIA Strategic Plan will include reporting on changes and refinements to policy and practice.
- A special working session will be held at least annually by the Diversity Committee to review existing policies, practices, and initiatives, with an eye to identifying prospective changes, advocating for their approval, and laying the groundwork for implementation.

Analysis (evaluation of progress)
