Politics & Economics

Earn a degree that sets you apart

The politics and economics program focuses on instilling students with civic engagement knowledge and skills that allow them to improve the lives of residents in the communities in which they reside. Students gain the ability to address societal problems and engage in public policy advocacy in a variety of governmental and non-profit settings.

Politics & Economics alumni earn advanced degrees at some of the nation's most prestigious institutions, including the University of California-Berkeley, George Washington School of Political Management, along with graduate and law schools throughout the Pacific Northwest.

"Politics & Economics taught me to think critically about factors that influence our political system. I served as EOU student body president, so I could make a positive difference for students. Now I work in Washington, DC and, like on campus, continue to work to make public policy that works."
