Follow My Tracks: The Recreation Trail of Northeast Oregon
Brian Sather, Ph.D.
Professor of Physical Activity & Health

This decade-long project has focused on developing the most comprehensive and accurate catalog of recreation trails in Northeast Oregon. The presenter will provide an overview of the current collection and a vision for the future of the project. Details will be provided on the method of data collection and media used to present the information. More interestingly, the presenter will share his personal experience and the value of outdoor activity.
